INVESTMENT WISDOM

We are not learning the lessons we have learned from the stock market. To make money, we have to buy low and sell high, right? Isn't that what your financial planner tells you?

Then why didn't your financial call you and tell you to sell when the stock market reached an all-time high?

The answer is simple: your financial advisor only makes money when your money is in the stock market.

Isn't it time you stopped taking advice from someone who earns less than you do?

Make your own fund and become your own financial advisor.
